AKUMA HELMETS AND ALPHA MICRON ANNOUNCE EXCLUSIVE PARTNERSHIP

Alpha Micron of Kent, OH and Akuma Helmets of San Antonio, TX have announced an exclusive North American partnership to bring the worlds first liquid crystal Tint On Demand (T.O.D.) visors to the motorcycle industry.

The visors will be called "Gemini" T.O.D. and utilize Alpha Micron's patented liquid crystal technology originally developed for U.S. Air Force pilots. The Gemini visors can be switched between tinted and clear with a simple push of a button. Switching is accomplished in less than 1/10th of a second between clear and tinted states.

The Gemini™ visors will be available initially in amber and blue but more colors will be available in the near future. The visor features embedded anti-fog capabilities, is fully rechargeable, and will charge in 20 minutes for 30 hours of usage. With regards to safety, the Gemini™ visor will default to clear if there is any loss of power.
